HOW THE PARTNERSHIP'S STRATEGIC PRIORITIES ARE PROPELLING WICHITA FORWARD

By Emily Barnwell

Wichita is increasingly gaining recognition as a destination city, a vibrant hub for top-tier talent and dynamic growth.

Recently, Forbes named Wichita the fourth-best city to move to in 2024 while Empower ranked it as the No. 3 most affordable U.S. city for working adults. In November, Wichita State University was ranked No. 1 for aerospace engineering R&D expenditures with a total of $327 million from all funding sources. Not to mention, Wichita's charm extends to pet owners, earning the accolade of being one of the top cities for furry friends.

Empower captured Wichita's essence: "Wichita is considered a fantastic city for families, with dozens of unique museums and parks. While the landscape might be flat, the Big and Little Arkansas Rivers add plenty of natural beauty to Wichita's surroundings."

It's important to recognize Wichita's growth is not the result of a single initiative. Instead, it results from a collaborative effort involving multiple organizations, community members and stakeholders. The Partnership is honored to contribute to the city's ongoing success through its strategic priorities of jobs, talent and quality of life.

The Partnership actively promotes the region's opportunities and innovation through industry tradeshows, supplier visits and site visits. In addition to an impressive 128 sunny days per year, Wichita boasts an extensive restaurant scene, an ever-expanding arts community, beautiful parks, museums and a vibrant downtown. Alongside the $1.7 billion invested downtown since 2019, the core has a development pipeline of more than $760 million in residential, commercial and educational projects.
